INTRODUCTION

As a 2023 high school graduate, I bring energy and a willingness to learn to any job. While I may not have extensive work experience, my active participation in team sports has shaped me into a team player with strong communication skills. I'm a quick learner, accustomed to adapting to new situations on the field, and I'm eager to translate that adaptability into a professional setting. Excited to embark on this new chapter, I am confident in my ability to contribute positively to your team and grow both personally and professionally in the process.
